In the tabulation which follows, the advertisements of industrial enterprises and other organizations are compiled by regions, and, where possible, are subgrouped according to the nature of activity, e.g., construction and planning. In cases where the organization or project was not identified, the personnel requirements are listed as they appeared in the advertisement. The source and the dates on which the ad appeared are given, as are any remarks on the wage system, urgency, and special compensatory benefits.

RSFSR

Moscow

Of 49 advertisements for personnel in the Moscow area, 46 appeared in Vechernyaya Moskva, two in Trud, and one in Moskovskaya Pravda. As was the case in the previous periods, most of the requirements were for engineering, technical, and construction personnel. There were only five advertisements recruiting for work in other regions; the rest were all for Moscow or vicinity.

1. Planning and Construction Enterprises

The following personnel are needed in Moscow by planning and construction enterprises and institutes.

Stalingrad Area

Only one Stalingrad paper was received in CIA during June; however, it carried seven advertisements for personnel, which might possibly indicate that a great deal of recruiting for work in the Stalingrad area is now done locally.
There were no advertisements in Moscow papers or any other areas pertaining to Stalingrad directly.

UKRAINIAN SSR

Personnel requirements for the Ukraine are still characterized by scarcity of newspaper advertisements, as judged by Pravda Ukrainy, the only Ukrainian newspaper available in CIA for June. There were two ads for the Ukrainian SSR in June, as compared with only one in March. Only one of the two appeared in Pravda Ukrainy; the other was in Trud. Both ads seek highly technical personnel.

BALTIC AREA

There was a noticeable increase in personnel advertisements appearing in the three Baltic newspapers in June.

Most of the advertisements still seek personnel to serve the local, light, and communal industries. However, as compared with March, a considerable increase in the demand for skilled construction and technical personnel is apparent. For example, a personnel ad for the Kaunas Ship Repair Plant appeared six times in a 22-day period. In addition, a considerable number of ads sought personnel for various repair and manufacturing plants.

The number of advertisements for the maritime and fish industries also showed a considerable increase over March, probably due to seasonal fluctuations.

The textile and clothing industry still is the major advertiser for personnel in the Latvian SSR. An ad mentioning mass production of clothing and uniforms may be of interest. (SL, 19 Jun)

An advertisement by the Military Housing Planning Administration of the Baltic Military District called for engineering and technical personnel to work on the construction of living quarters. (SL, 21 Jun)

There was only one advertisement for work in other regions, which appeared in Sovetskaya Litva three times.

TRANSCAUCASIAN AREA

No significant change was evident in either the volume or the trend of advertisements in Georgian and Armenian newspapers as compared to the March report. Most of the personnel needed in these republics are for the construction, mining and industrial fields.

Several lengthy ads recruiting personnel for the Far North and "out of town" appeared in both the Georgian and Armenian newspapers.

Only one ad appeared in the Azerbaydzhan newspaper Bakinskiy Rabochiy; it required highly technical personnel to work in various regions of the Transcaucasian Area.

CENTRAL ASIA

Advertisements for personnel from Central Asian newspapers, and especially from Pravda Vostoka, Uzbek SSR, continued to show a marked increase. As compared with previous reports, the ads reflect a growing need of skilled construction and technical personnel in all but the Turkmen SSR.

About a third of the advertisements recruit personnel for work in the outlying districts of the republics on such projects as construction and installation, geological surveying, mining, water and kolkhoz development, and irrigation and canal building. In many cases wages are based on contract and 50-60 percent bonuses are offered as an added inducement.

Several ads in Pravda Vostoka sought personnel for machine building and other heavy industry; an increase over March in requests for personnel at Uzbek agricultural machine building plants may be noted especially. Special training programs have been instituted at some plants.

Kazakh SSR

The following personnel are needed by various organizations in the Kazakh SSR.

ADVERTISEMENTS FOR WORK IN THE NORTH AND OUT OF TOWN

Advertisements for work in the North and "out of town" are listed here as they appeared in the newspapers. However, it can probably be assumed, from examination of some of the "out-of-town" ads, that they are for work in the Far North. At least one of these ads has appeared in all main regions of the country.

The advertisements request highly qualified technical and scientific personnel such as engineers, chemists, medical specialists, and all types of maritime transport specialists. Several of the ads, however, also recruit personnel for most of the other phases of economic activity. For example, an ad in Zarya Vostoka (16, 19 Jun) calls for personnel for industrial and residential construction, road building, and trading organizations; an ad from Vechernyaya Moskva (6, 19, 25, 29 Jun), in addition to the above personnel, asks for newspaper workers, warehouse workers, public eating places workers, postal and telegraph workers, legal advisers, and for people to work in clubs, and as movie camera mechanics. All this suggests the possibility that sizable communities are being set up on a more or less permanent basis.

Higher wages and additional privileges as well as quarters are among the inducements offered.

Personnel are wanted for work in the North from the following regions:

Georgian SSR
